Heroes and villains!

COMPLETED BY ALL:

Use web searches on the internet or take a trip to your local library and use contents and index pages in books to find information on heroes and villains from the past and present. Create a hanging mobile to display the information you collect.

Hand in by 21st September

CHALLENGES

Make a list of as many heroes and villains that you can find. Arrange them in different lists (for example, alphabetically, on a timeline, oldest to youngest).

Design a costume for a superhero or villain. Make notes about special features it has that will help the hero or villain.

Create a fact file about a real-life hero (past or present) that you find interesting.

Collect clippings and stories from newspapers & magazines about real-life heroes. Make a clippings board. Heroic acts might be saving people or animals, fighting fires or donating organs to help another person.

Find an example of a comic book cartoon that involves heroes and villains. Draw your own hero and villain in the same style. How will you show who is good and who is evil?

Make a Top Trumps card game for heroes and villains. Include name, picture and a short description of each character. Include their strengths, weaknesses, intelligence, fitness and any other fun facts to gain them points.

Maths Vocabulary

Add plus equals addition sentence total model item two-step word problem sum difference