

Kathryn Cousins

My name is Kathryn Cousins and I am the staff representative on the governing body. I have taught at the school now for nearly 11 years and am Assistant Headteacher. My role on the governing body is to represent the staff and their views so that staff have a voice in any decisions made.

I have been teaching for over 20 years through all age ranges up to Year 6 and have many roles within St James' school. As well as Assistant Headteacher I am also SENDCO, Leader of English and I also teach in Year 2.

This means I can offer a lot of insight and information to the other governors to assist them in decision making and future planning for our school.
